International Congress of Medical Sciences 2021

Dear University of Tuzla,

On behalf of the Organizing Committee of the International Congress of Medical Sciences 2021 it's a great pleasure for me to inform you that the registration is OPEN!

The 19th edition of the ICMS will take place between 13th and 16th of May in Sofia, Bulgaria. We are looking for passionate, eager to learn and grow young scientists!

This year's edition of ICMS will be held online having in mind the dynamic times with COVID-19.

By participating in the congress you have the opportunity to:

- Present your scientific research and a chance for winning 500euro prize
- Improve your practical skills through online workshops
- Listen to the Keynote Lectures of the leading researchers in the world and hear about their breakthrough discoveries
- Attend the social program and expand your social network by online meeting with other passionate healthcare students!
- Participate in our Clinical Competition

The scientific program of ICMS is composed of four main topics - Preclinical sciences, Internal Medicine, Surgery and Public Health. We accept abstracts until 7th of March.

To see the other opportunities we offer you and to register, please follow the link: <http://icmsbg.org/>
